TRAIL BLAZERS

(With Apologies)

*When the Outing Club's trails are all blazed
For the hikers that throng to the Hill,
When the markers point out all the ways,
And the ringing of axes is still,
We shall rest (and gad we shall need it!)—
Lie down for a weekend or two,—
Till the Head of the Trails Committee
Shall call us to labor anew.*

*And those that have worked shall be happy;
They shall sit in the Lodge out there
And plot out the routes for the youngsters
On maps surveyed from the air;
They shall speak of the trails they have laid out,
Past Dover and Wharton and Hall
They shall talk by the hour of each outing
And never be tired at all!*

*And all of the members shall praise them
In U.O.C.'s honored name;
And no one shall shirk his duty
When there is a call for the same.
But each for the joy of hiking,
And each in his diligent way,
Shall keep up the trails as intended
By those who blaze them today.*
